

CITY OF TUSTIN

LET'S GET SMART ABOUT WATER EXPO

EVERY DROP COUNTS

The City of Tustin has set the date of September 19, 2015 for its first water conservation expo, Let's Get Smart About Water – Every Drop Counts. This family friendly community event is free to the public and will take place from 10:00 am – 2:00 pm at Peppertree Park.

There will be tented exhibits from landscape, turf, irrigation, and green technology companies. Workshops and demonstrations will also be offered on water wise and heat tolerant plants for your yard, water saving tips, rebate programs, lawn alternatives and water saving irrigation systems.

A special children's area will include bounce houses, face painting, kids' crafts, water conservation games and a coloring contest. A DJ and local entertainment will perform throughout the day to delight the entire family.

Various food trucks will be on hand for you to purchase a delicious lunch, snacks or a picnic on the grass and Prize drawings will take place each hour.

Please join us by exhibiting at the City of Tustin's first Water Conservation Expo

September 19, 2015 10:00 am – 2:00 pm
Peppertree Park
230 West First Street
Tustin, CA 92780

Exhibit space is complimentary and includes a pop up tent, table and two chairs. Space is available on a first come, first serve basis.

If interested in teaching a one half hour educational session on any type of water conservation, please contact Beth@meeting-management.com.

