Development Impact Fees

Introduction:

The information in this handout is intended to provide you with an overview of the development impact fees that may be applicable to your project in the City of Tustin. For further assistance, you may visit the Planning Department or call us at (714) 573-3140, and we will gladly answer any questions.

What Are Development Impact Fees?

Development impact fees are one-time charges applied to new development projects. Impact fees are usually due prior to the issuance of grading or building permit(s). The City of Tustin has the following development impact fees, which are periodically changed by outside agencies:

- New Construction Fees
- Park Fees (in-lieu of dedication)
- School District Fees
- Transportation Corridor Fees
- Affordable Housing In-Lieu Fees

Why Does the City Require Development Impact Fees?

New construction or development projects increase the demand for city services, infrastructure, and public facilities. Impact fees paid to the City help to maintain the City's roadways, infrastructure, parks, school buildings, and other facilities. With the impact fees, the City can continue to accommodate and facilitate growth, as well as provide for the community.

When will I know how much I have to pay?

You will be contacted and given a total by the Building Division once the number is finalized. If you would like an estimate the Building Division can provide you with one or an estimate can be calculated with the fee rate provided in the Development Impact Fees Chart.
