

Conserving Our Water

Thank you! The City of Tustin wants to extend a heartfelt thank you to all of our customers who continue to prioritize water use efficiency. With the welcome relief of a wet winter season, the Sierra snowpack is over 200% of normal and reservoirs are filling up across the state. We still need to remain focused on continuing to use our water supplies efficiently. With the cyclical nature of California's weather, the next dry cycle is just around the corner, but the bigger challenge remains; California has limited water resources. So, let's continue to do what we know how to do... use our water efficiently. Let's do it for our families, our neighbors, our children, and our future. We know our residents understand the importance of this request and will always do their part to reduce water use and conserve our water supplies, and for that, we again say thank you!
